

News Gathered During the Past Week

The Most Important Happenings of a Week Briefly
Told by Our Staff Correspondents

SALISBURY SQUIBBLINGS.

Miss Leta Bodine visited friends here Sunday.

Felix Clearman and wife have returned from a prospecting trip to Lewis, Kas.

Mrs. Chas. Braun of St. Louis is here under the doctor's care for some nervous trouble.

A. G. Chrane is erecting and will soon complete three new cottages for rental purposes.

Miss Eva Chick, a pretty little miss, holds cases in the P.-S. office, and will learn the printer's art.

The walls of the colored Masonic hall will soon be up and its completion will soon follow.

L. D. Cobb and daughter are in Oklahoma filing on claims, near Tyro. We hope they will get good ones.

The flower sale and lunch supper of the Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church netted something like $50.

Elder Ramsey filled his regular appointment here Sunday, preaching to a large audience both morning and evening.

Geo. Heckmeister has purchased the Isert butcher-shop and consolidated it with his own, leaving our city now with but two shops.

The A. O. U. W. will vacate the hall over the Peoples bank and the room will be converted into a law-office to be occupied by Fred Lamb.

Word reached here last week of the death of B. F. Trueblood at the home of his daughter in South Missouri. He was well known here and had many friends.

Salisbury has had two side walk damage suits, and they were costly, but the prospects for others are good if the sidewalk on West Fourth street is allowed to remain in its present condition.

The Catholic church was dedicated here yesterday and great preparations were made for the important event. Bishop Glennon presided and many of the clergy from a distance assisted.

We learn that Rev. J. K. Craven and family, who went to Colorado last summer for the former's health, have returned to Missouri and will make their home at Macon. Instead of being benefited, his health became worse and on the advice of his physician he returned.

Bud Wills, a colored Lithario, is carrying a chunk of lead in the rear portion of his anatomy, the result of a shot taken at him by Mack Holly, another son of Ham, whose wife, it is said, Bud had been annoying by his attentions. The shooting took place on Second and Broadway about noon Saturday. Holly was arrested and placed under bond, but not much is likely to result from the prosecution, as Wills has long been a persona non grata about town, among both white and colored, and the only regret seems to be over the poor aim of Holly.

The talk of the county for the past three weeks has been the very low prices at which Wm. Rosenstein of Brunswick is selling Dry Goods, Clothing, Carpets, etc., and his big sale is still on.

Bethany Bombs.

"Grandma" Wilson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mitchell of Salisbury.

R. D. Vincent returned home Saturday from Iowa with a fine drove of sheep.

Look out for chicken thieves! Some sneak thief stole about three dozen young chickens from Mrs. A. Shupbeck.

Rev. T. J. Sheron attended the protracted meeting at Prairie Hill Sunday.

Mrs. Greenhagen is on the sick list this week.

Miss Fannie Long of Echo is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Geo. West.

Expert Repairing.

I have purchased the jewelry and watch-maker's tools of Jas. Kendall, and have employed Mr. Kendall to do all my watch, clock and jewelry repair work. He is an expert at the business, and I not only guarantee satisfaction to my patrons of that department, but I give to all the confident assurance that my prices are the lowest.

E. W. HERRING,
Keytesville, Mo.

Quite a number of Keytesville people attended the dedication of the new Catholic church at Salisbury yesterday.

Rosenstein of Brunswick is making a present of a target rifle to every boy who buys a suit of clothes or an overcoat at his store ranging in price from $2.50 up.

Mrs. Frank Wilson left Wednesday to visit friends and relatives in and near Nevada, Mo., where she will be joined by her husband, and where they expect to locate.

Mrs. Sarah Busby of Quincy, Ill., accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Shafer, is visiting C. L. Herring and wife and Mrs. Busby's uncle, John Krigbaum, and daughter, Mrs. G. L. Sisler.

Owing to the illness of his wife, H. S. Bane, Wabash agent at Keytesville station, was given relief the first of the week by Chas. Gorsuch. We are glad to learn, however, that Mrs. Bane is now improving rapidly.

We call attention to the financial statements of the Farmers bank of Chariton county, the Bank of Keytesville and the Bank of Dalton in this issue of the COURIER. The showings are such as the management and patrons of those institutions have just cause to boast.

B. I. Davis, C. P. and W. P. Thrash, A. S. Wilks and the editor of the COURIER attended the W. H. Brown public sale, 1 1/2 miles northeast of Glasgow, Tuesday. The property sold consisted of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture, some of which sold well. Other things went at a sacrifice. It was a big sale and the invoice of the personal estate was about $5,000. The attendance was quite large. A. S. Wilks bought two mules at the sale and two privately of John Soots, B. I. Davis and W. P. Thrash bought a horse at the sale for $49, which they sold to A. S. Wilks for a profit of $23, and C. P. Thrash sold a small mule he bought at the sale for $21 to Mr. Wilks for a profit of $14. The editor of the COURIER had to be content with two new subscribers and a collection of $4 from a generous old subscriber, which paid his subscription up to September 11, 1908.

Notice.

A 2-year-old, dehorned, red steer, with both ears frozen off, and weighing about 900 pounds, was taken up by the undersigned at his farm, seven miles north of Keytesville, Wednesday, November 15, 1905, and if the owner does not claim and prove said animal within 30 days from the date hereof, said steer will be posted according to law before some justice of the peace of Chariton county, Mo.

GEORGE GUTHRIDGE.

The regular November term of circuit court convenes next Monday, November 20.

Local option was voted on at Fayette last Friday, and was defeated by nearly 2 to 1.

R. R. Correll of the Clark Chronicle spent a few hours in Keytesville Monday evening.

Keytesville has again gone "wet" in at least two places, Hansman & Schell having opened up the second saloon here Tuesday, November 14.

The big sale is being at Wm. Roseinsteins large double-store at Brunswick: and bargains, rich, racy and rare, are being obtained by all customers.

FOR SALE:—A tract of land adjoining the town of Rothville, and containing about 20 acres, with a new 4-room house, living well, stable and other out-buildings. For further particulars, inquire of A. M. Colley, Rothville, Mo.

John Hood was lodged in the county jail Thursday of last week to serve out a fine $1 and costs imposed by a jury in Justice W. T. Curran's court at Brunswick for stealing a gun from I. E. Lambert, who conducts a blacksmith shop in Brunswick. Hood was formerly in Lambert's employ, and is addicted to the liquor habit, which probably accounts for the theft he committed from Lambert.

Rev. F. P. Drace, a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Drace of one mile east of Keytesville, is lying very low of typhoid fever at his home in Fayette. His father-in-law, J. J. Moore of Keytesville, and his brother, Prof. W. S. Drace of Brunswick, have been in attendance at his bedside this week. We hope to soon hear of a change for the better in Frank's condition.

City Marshal R. H. Tisdale had an elephant on his hands the first three days of this week in the person of a tramp barber who gave his name as Ben Davis, who was given to strong drink and was lodged in the calaboose for drunkenness. While there he was taken with delirium tremens and, in his weird condition, killed all the snakes in and about the city bastille. As soon as Davis got able to navigate, the marshal started him on his way to find another den of fiery-eyed reptiles.

Laura Kelso of LaPlata, Macon county, was among the victims of the Warrenton wreck on the Wabash railroad September 6, 1904, and has brought suit against the company for $20,000 damages. The plaintiff recites a long list of personal injuries, which, she says, has disqualified her from following the avocation of a teacher for which she had prepared herself. The case has been docketed for the November term of circuit court at Keytesville, and comes to this county on change of venue from Adair county. J. T. Barker of LaPlata, Campbell & Ellison of Kirksville and J. A. Collet of Keytesville are plaintiff's attorneys, while the defendant is represented by Geo. S. Grover of St. Louis and H. F. Millan of Kirksville.
